

terms of use

Sprinkle Berry digital images and papers have been designed to be printed and used in their printed form. All our images and papers are for personal use only and may not be used for any commercial purpose other than what is detailed in our Angel Policy below.

angel policy

Sprinkle Berry digital images and papers may be offered for resale in the form of completed cards or projects. Images and designs must be printed and then cards or projects created from these. They must be made entirely from hand and by you.

Creating and selling items for another person to complete their own project is not permitted (eg. card toppers).

No credit on your creation is required but appreciated.

copyright

Sprinkle Berry retains the copyright on all of its digital images and paper products. You may not redistribute any Sprinkle Berry designs, including sharing, copying, lending, swapping or reselling them. Sprinkle Berry may not be made into physical stamps (mounted or unmounted) or die cuts. Purchasing Sprinkle Berry digital products affords you the licence to use them under these restrictions.

best results

When printing Sprinkle Berry digital images and papers it is best to use a fine or photo print quality option. Our A4 papers are designed to print borderless if your printer has this option available.
